

24/7 Property Maintenance & Repairs

Testing & Treatment for Mould and Methamphetamine

TAKING CARE OF YOUR CLIENTS' PROPERTY

Don't risk the health of your tenants

With methamphetamine users and producers who pose as tenants resorting to new tactics and techniques, property managers and owners are no longer able to rely on property inspections to detect the use or production of methamphetamines in the home.

In addition, the serious health risks associated with mould within a property, a professional mould clean-up is required if detected. There may be hidden mould growing that can cause allergies or serious health issues as well as property damage.
